URGENT: DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY (DHS) ELIMINATES COLLECTIVE BARGAINING RIGHTS FOR 47,000+ TSA WORKERS

WHAT'S HAPPENING

Last week, DHS announced it will no longer recognize the collective bargaining agreement for more than 47,000 TSA workers nationwide	TSA workers have lost their contract protections overnight
Workplace rights including scheduling, grievance procedures, and safety protocols are at risk	Payroll deduction of dues has been eliminated immediately

This decision follows years of challenges for TSA workers who already had more limited bargaining rights than many federal employees.

WHY THIS MATTERS TO ALL OF US

This is union-busting. This action represents an attack on the fundamental right of workers to organize. When any union is undermined, all unions are threatened. Today it's TSA workers — tomorrow it could be any of us.

The elimination of these protections sets a dangerous precedent that could embolden similar actions against other public sector unions and eventually spread to private sector workers.

HOW WE CAN STAND IN SOLIDARITY

- ✓ Share information about this situation on social media and with your networks; talk to your friends and coworkers about what's happening.
- ✓ Attend solidarity rallies being organized in support of TSA workers (more details coming soon)
